

STUDENT RESPONSE CONTEST

Here is Your Chance to Reflect and Participate

The Howard County Holocaust Remembrance Committee invites students to participate in this contest, which highlights the importance of resisting hateful actions to prevent terrible events from happening again.

Take time to consider the atrocities of the Holocaust. In what ways have these and other hateful actions impacted you personally, and how can you take action to resist acts of hatred in your life.

- ▶ What lessons do we learn from the Holocaust that help us to prevent hateful actions today?
- ▶ What does it mean to be part of a peaceful minority group? Should majority groups have any responsibility to protect peaceful minorities? Why?
